Step-by-Step Pre-Sale Guide for Buyers in BC

Step 1: Understand What a Pre-Sale Property Is

- A pre-sale property is one that is sold by the developer before it is built or during its construction. This means you are buying the property based on plans and specifications rather than a completed home. Pre-Order Now

Step 2: Research the Developer and the Project

- Investigate the developer's track record, previous projects, and reputation.
- Visit the project's website, attend information sessions, and read reviews from other buyers.
- Look at the location, neighborhood amenities, and future developments in the area.

Step 3: Review the Disclosure Statement

- Developers must provide a disclosure statement, which includes detailed information about the project
- Carefully read this document to understand what you are buying, including the size of the units, materials, amenities, and any additional costs.

Step 4: Get Your Finances in Order

- Obtain a mortgage pre-approval to understand your budget and financing options. PRE-APPROVED
- Keep in mind that pre-sale properties typically require a deposit, usually ranging from 5% to 20% of the purchase price.

Step 5: Hire a Real Estate Agent

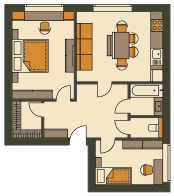

- Choose a real estate agent experienced in pre-sale properties and familiar with the local market.
- Your agent will guide you through the process, provide valuable insights, and help point out any red flags.

Step 6: Visit the Sales Centre and Showroom

- Visit the developer's sales centre and showroom to see floor plans, model units, and finishes in person
- Ask questions about customization options, upgrade costs, and timelines for completion.

Step 7: Make an Offer

- Work with your real estate agent to pick out which specific unit in the development will be right for you
- Go through the Contract from start to finish with your realtor so you know exactly what rights and responsibilities you have as the buyer.

Step 8: Pay the Deposit

- Pay the initial deposit as outlined in your purchase agreement.
- Be aware of subsequent deposit payments and ensure you have the funds available when needed.

Step 9: Monitor Construction Progress + Prepare for Completion

- Stay in touch with the developer for updates on the construction progress and estimated completion dates.
- Approximately 6-12 months before completion, finalize your mortgage details with your lender
- Arrange for a final inspection of the unit before possession to ensure everything is in order.

Step 10: Complete on your home & Take Possession

- On the completion date, the final paperwork will be signed, and the property ownership will transfer to you.
- You will receive the keys to your new home and can begin moving in.

Bonus Tips if Moving in

1) Organize Movers weeks in advance
2) Set up all your utilities a week or 2 prior to moving in
3) Write down strata manager &building managers phone numbers

Bonus Tips if Renting out your Home

1) Advertise your home 1-2 months prior to completion (Avoid Vacancy)
2) Give your new tenants all of the Bylaws,rules & contact information prior to move in!
3) A friendly gesture such as a bottle of wine or small gift can go along way

Thank you so much for reading the Step-by-step pre sale guide. I have been helping buyers navigate the pre sale process for the last 5 years & would be honored to do the same for you!

Axford real estate

devin@axfordrealestate.ca 604.809.1032